ROMEO. MACOMB CO., Mich., July 9, 1860.

Messrs. J. N. HARRIS & Co.:

Gentlemen:—The confidence I have in Perry Davis'
Pain Killer as a remed, for Colds. Coughs. Burns Sprains, and Rheumatism, for the cure of which have successfully used it, induces me to obserfully recommend its virtues to others.

A few months ago I had recourse to it to destroy a Telon; although I had never beard of its being used for that purpose; but having suffered intensely from a former one, and having no other remedy at hand, I applied the Pain Killer freels for about fifteen minutes at evening, and repeated the application very briefly the next morning, which entirely destroyed the Felon, and increased my confidence in the utility of the remedy.
Yours truly,
Minister of the Wesleyan Methodist Courch.

SATURDAY DECEMBER 28, 1861

In the Senate proceedings of the las day of the session, we find the following: Mr. SPEED offered a resolution that committee of two be appointed to inquire into the conduct and loyalty of the Public Printer and report at the next session. Adopted.

Committee-Speed and Bruner. The correspondent of the Louisville Journul, and the editor of the Louisville Democrat, scenting the trail with wonderful sagacity, follow up the subject with the subjoined comments: He (the Governor) eannot, however, deny his knowledge of transactions in the lower part of the State, for his organ (the Yeoman this norning most complacently published troops," which act is signed W. B. Macher President of the Council, approved by Geo. W. Johnson, Governor, and attested R. Me-Kee, Secretary of State. Has Gov. Mugoffin abd cated? Has Bob McKee superseded Nat. Gaither? Not exactly, we are happy to say, Why, then, does the Yeoman publish this act without comment? The answer is very plain. It tells those who sympathize with sec that the rehels want twenty volunteer infantry or cavalry companies for twelve months. It is an invitation to our misguided young en, who "want their rights Bowling-Green and join the Confederate -ervice. I regard the publication of this law in the official paper of the Executive Department of Kentucky, without any condemnation, as a great outrage, and it should receive the attention of the Legislature .- Correspondence of the Journal.

previously, because it has no editorials, and twenty-three (23.) edited with more ability than it ever has been with just the kind of plack that allows it to be the organ of Gov. Magoffin, after he has pronounced against Geo. W. Johnson, publishes an appeal, with the names of the latter and our ex-friend, W. B. Muchen, attached. We do hope that this able effort of the Yeoman will be duly appreciated as a conservative effort to run with the hare and hold with the hounds. The Louisville Conrier, poor, suffering innocence, spoke out plainly; but then the Louisville Conrier was not the organ of Gov. Magoffin, as the Yeoman was. We do not know which to pity most, the Yeonun, the Governor, the Courier, George Johnson, or our old friend Willis Muchen; but our sympathies lenn to the last. There is no doubt. however, that the Yeoman has carried ou the palm as the organ of both Governors. Line. Dem.

Passing by the puppyism which dictated the Democrat's attack, to which we make no other response than that our paper is not the organ of anybody, and that we conduct it to suit ourself, we come to an explanation of the matter upon which Mr. Speed founded his metion. In our paper of Monday, the 28d, George W. Johnson's proclamation calling for volunteers was published without comment; in fact there was no editorial of any kind in that issue. We published it just as we published Jeff. Davis' message, and other documents of the same ilk, that we may have found in our exchanges. An affair which looks like something in the magnifying glasses of our metropolitan cotemporaries, thus sinks into insignificance when properly examined. But there is one circumstance connected with the subject that sets off the Democrat's attacks in the most clarming colors. We copied the obnoxious proclamation, line for line, from the Louisville Dem erat of Saturday, December 21st, where it stood conspicuously on the editorial page, without a word of comment or condemnation from the loyal pens of that concern. We borrowed the very language of the Democrat in the heading of the proclamation, and do not remember to have seen the publication in any other paper. If there is anything improper in the affair, we are unable to see it, unless it consists in clipping from the columns of such a paper. Perhaps we ought to apologise for so doing.

Now, as the correspondent of the Journal regards the publication of the proclamation is "a great outrage," which "should receive the attention of the Legislature," we re pectfully refer him to his neighbor, who first published the document without comment or condemnation of any kind. When "the outrage" is settled with the Public Printer elect, it may be time enough for us to enter on our defense. In the meantime, not claiming to be so well ber 30th, in an article declaring that Mason posted in the latest regulations in regard to and Slidell must be surrendered to the British newspapers, and knowing nothing but what Government, says: is contained in the old musty documen's States in thus capturing the Confederate Commissioners? To prevent their eloquence, fully submit the question of what constitutes doubtless, from carrying away European suthe difference of right between the Democration discress, and their persuasions from taking and Yeoman in publishing identically the same matter in their columns, and how can one be condemned for what the other does with-Union friends are too keenly set for the seent of treason, and that 'sniffing the tainted gale of the whole seen called the meetings that could have been called afar' they have some how gotten on a wrong in all England to a tithe of the depth to which

[For the Yooman.] THE TALE THE HOURS TELL INSCRIBED TO MISS LIDA R*, OF BOURBON COUNTY, KV.

The evening shades, with their sombre hue; Had kissel the pearly drops of dew; While twilight, reled in a mantle gray, Closed up the eyes of the dying day.

The air was still as the mourner's breath That steals unheard o'er the couch of death; All things below, and all thougs above, Seemed resting in a trance of love.

The moon's bright form in the orient sky With farewell kiss bid the earth good-loe -As stroams of light fell down from her face. Dew drops-the tears-tell the foud embrace.

I sat me down in the mellow light To watch the coming hours of night, Which, on the wave ets of the breeze, Were wafted from the midnight seas.

'Twas summer, and the breath of flowers Was mingled with the passing hours; While to the sense a charm was given That spoke of earth and whispered heaven. One hour had passed! and with it came Ferev'ry moment seemed to bear A message from the viewless air. But all I heard this truth impressed. That in this life no one is blessed

A thousand things I could not name;

With perfect bliss, or tearless oyes For in each light a shadow lies. The second came ! and very soon An angry cloud had we led the moon;

Refused the earth her sliver light.

And thus it is with many things That float on silver-coated wing. : Too soon misfortune's with'ring blight Obscures their faint aud glim'ring light

And with it came a mournful cry, Which froze the gentle zephyr's breath. And changed it to the ice of death.

And still another, full of gloom-The twelfth-it came from out the tomb Where Night was buried 'neath the wave Of darkness-emblem of the grave.

And thus, methought, our days are spent, Like hours, that, from the darkness sent, Are first all calm and cheered with light Thon gloom, then death, and then midnight.

But now a glorious truth revives The drouping soul; it shall arise From out the gloom, up to the day, As midnight hours, the other way.

O, then, in glorious light and love-In untold blessedness above-We'll change the dim rays of the moon FRANKFORT, KY.

ILLUSTRATED SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN! THE BEST MECHANICAL PAPER IN THE WORLD.

SEVENTEENTH YEAR.

VOLUME VI.-NEW SERIES. A NEW volume of this widely circulated paper commences on the first of January. It is published wherein, and e economies extrem priges of usual information, and from five to ten original eigenvings of new inventions and discoveries, all of which are prepared expressly for its columns.

TO THE MECHANIC AND MANUFACTURER. No person cogaged in any of the incolanical or manufacturing pursuits should think of "doing without" the Scipetific American, It rosts but four centre per work; every number contains from six to ten engravings of new machines and inventions, which can no! be found in my other publication. It is an established rule of the publishers to insert none but original engravings, and those of the first class in the art, drawn and engraved by experienced persons under their own supervision.

TO THE INVENTOR. TO THE INVENTOR.

The Scientific American is indispensable to every inventor, as it not only contains illustrated descriptions of nearly all the best inventions as they come ut, but each number contains an Official List of the Claims of all the Patonts issued from the United States Patent Office during the week previous; thus giving a certest history of the prigress of inventions in this country. We are also receiving every week, the best scientific journals of Great Britain, I rence, and Germany; thus placing in our passession all that is transpiring in mechanical science and art in the seed decountries. We shall continue to transfer to our columns copious extracts from these journals of whatever we may deem of unterest to our readers.

CHEMISTS, ARCHITECTS, MILLWRIGHTS, AND FARMERS.

The Scientific American will be found a most useful journal to them. All the new discoveries in the stence of chemistry are given in its columns, and the interests of the prehitect and carpenier are at overlooked; ull the new inventions and discoveries appertaining to these pursuits being published from week to week. Useful and practical information pertaining its the interests of millwrights and mill-owners will be found published in the Scientific American, which information they crunot which planters and tarmers are interested will be found discussed in the Scientific American; most of the improvements in sgricultural implements being illustrated in its columns. AND FARMERS.

TERMS:

To mail subscribers: Two Dollars a year, or One Dollar for six months. One Dollar pays tor one or plete volume of 416 pages; two volumes comprise one year. The volumes commence on the first of danuary and July. Specimen express will be sent grates to any part of the construction. Also, a pamphlet of instruction to inventors about obtaining patents, sent free.
